AND THIS IS PERSONAL LIBERTY!

Leaving the electric train to board the San Francisco ferry at the Oakland mole, we noticed three well-dressed men, probably in their early thirties. They were all more or less under the influence of liquor. It was early afternoon. If it had been late at night we might not have been surprised at the sad condition of men who apparently should have known better. One of the men was having considerable difficulty in navigating. Directly in front of the inebriates were three women. We noticed the women particularly because one of them was strikingly beautiful. She was carrying in her arms a babe, and when the party arrived on the deck of the ferry they stopped to adjust the baby's clothes. From the depot platform to the ferry there is a sharp decline and upon reaching a footing not level, the worst drunk began to sag forward. In a flash we realized what was going to happen. Though we made a heroic effort we were too late to prevent an accident; one more disgusting and outrageous it has not been our misfortune to see. The drunk in a final ineffectual effort to keep his feet, lurched against the mother, dragging her down, knocking the babe from her arms, and he, the dirty sot, falling prone on the little mite of humanity. Marvelously enough, the babe was not severely injured. It was bruised, but due to the softness of its bones, none was broken. It might have been otherwise. The infant might have been crushed to death, or worse yet, maimed for life.

This, gentlemen, is personal liberty!
We find this brand of personal liberty very apparent everywhere.

Drinking liquor, getting drunk, and making an ass of yourself, possibly endangering the life and limbs of one's fellow man, was before prohibition repeal, unlawful. Today it is part of the new deal—honorable and sponsored by the government. We draw revenue from the sale of liquor, and you and we are partners in the traffic.

Highways are growing daily more dangerous to travel. Cato, head of the highway patrol, is sounding the warning. But sounding the warning too late.

This is an era of personal liberty. We saw it on the lower deck of the ferry. You may see it racing down the highway, swaying from one side of the road to the other. It may be seen reflected in the personal liberty of your wives and daughters getting drunk on legal liquor. What was yesterday disgraceful conduct, becomes under the new order of things, apparently a patriotic duty—the duty of every citizen to increase the revenue through the government tax on booze!

NO HERO IN HIS HOME.

A great man's family is just like an ordinary man's family. There is no accounting for what the children may do. You remember about the great Alexander, probably the world's greatest conqueror, sitting down on a friendly rock and weeping because there were no other world's to subject to his military dictum. He forgot about conquering himself, it is said, while crying that there was nothing left to do. Whether the youthful military genius had a legitimate family to control, the story books we have read do not say, but probably he did. Did he make his sons and daughters behave? Probably not.

So no one blames the popular president because his sons create a disturbance now and then, getting divorced and generally being anything but model boys.

Last week the Roosevelt heir attending Harvard, smashed the camera of a newspaper photographer. But the film was saved.

It seems the lad was attending a pug exhibition.

HARVEST TRANQUIL AFTER PROCLAMATION BY STRIKE OFFICIALS

Police Patrol of District Maintained in Spite of Peace Bulletin

In spite of rumors that orders had been issued from headquarters of the Cannery and Agricultural Workers Union to cease all crop strike activities, county authorities this week kept a patrol in the district to insure against disorder arising in labor camps.

George Harper, executive secretary of the union, is said to have stated that handbills had been sent out to 4000 workers proclaiming cessation of strike agitation. He is reported to have intimated that the order was issued after growers in the district had made concessions to the union. Questioned on the matter of concessions, farmers state that none had been made to their knowledge, and that the established price to pea-pickers of 17 and 18 cents per hamper had not been raised. Striking pickers had been demanding 30 cents per hamper.

Deputies were hurried to the Kennedy ranch at Decoto again Sunday when three men, alleged to be inciting a strike, were discharged by camp foremen. The three were escorted from the premises after having threatened violence to fellow workers. A police guard was maintained at the gate during the day.

WATER IN ALAMEDA CREEK ATTRACTS PICNICKER THROUGH

Tourist Traffic Reaches
Summer Levels Over
Last Week-End

Aside from the purely utilitarian value of the water release down the Alameda creek, there is an equally noticeable value in the attraction the stream has for the Sunday tourists.

Publicity in the local papers and in the metropolitan papers in the bay area, has drawn the attention of thousands of motorists to the fact that here is a flowing stream, easily accessible, and ideal for camping parties and picnics.

Last week-end and the one previous, the canyon has been the scene of hundreds of out door activities. Swimming, with the stream high, had come into its own, and the pools were crowded. According to camp ground operators, the water release has meant a great deal to them. W. A. Foster, of Joyland Park stated that the conjunction of excellent weather and a real stream has swelled the picnic trade immensely.

From the farmers angle, the water release has been equally propitious. Wells in the district, particularly those close to the creek channel, were raised to a higher point than at any time during the release of the last four years. Irrigation activities increased fourfold this week to take advantage of the raised water table.

Amount of the release, according to Chris Runckle, Water District secretary, was one billion gallons, distributed over period of twenty days. Request of the district for an additional release this spring had not yet been considered by the San Francisco Water Department, Runckle said. He seemed confident of favorable action, however.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Clapp left Tuesday morning on an automobile trip to Shasta. They will return to Niles today.

Preparations Begin Tonight For 6th Annual Wildflower Display Sunday and Monday

FINAL PAYMENT IS DISTRIBUTED TO 'COT GROWERS

Checks covering final payments to growers for 1933 apricot deliveries were mailed from the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association headquarters at San Jose last Thursday, according to word issued Friday. The mailing of the checks was part of the $1,000,000 schedule of returns which the association announced prior to tax delinquency on April 20.

The cash distribution in this final payment runs from one and one-third quarters cents per pound, according to the grade or classification. The growers' equities which are part of the proceeds are paid to the members in terms of credit in the revolving capital fund of the association. This fund is revolved once in every seven years.

Returns were considered particularly good on the Sunsweet grades from standards to extra fancy Moorpark, ranging from 8 to 13 cents. Slabs and culls netted 6 to 8 cents. A payment on pits accompanied the final distribution.

In commenting on the prospects for price levels for the 1934 season, C. D. Cavaliero, association manager, stated that barring unforeseen circumstances, the new crop values should be established from the start at the peak attained in the last market of 1933.

RUSTLER SUSPECT TO FACE TRIAL AT MARTINEZ

Acquitted by a jury at the San Joaquin county superior court at Stockton recently on a charge of cattle stealing, Walter P. Lawyer, Newark rancher was halted before Justice of the Peace Wade W. Moore, at Pittsburg Monday on a grand theft complaint arising from the alleged theft of a cow from the McCoy ranch in Contra Costa county.

According to reports, Lawyer is expected to fight the charge, as he did in San Joaquin county.

Lawyer was arrested at his Newark ranch a number of weeks ago by local authorities. He was charged with the stealing of a number of cattle during the preceding months.

Specimen Collectors Are Combing District For Blossoms

With actual preparations begun tonight, the sixth annual Wildflower Show, sponsored by the Niles Chamber of Commerce, will open Sunday morning to an enthusiastic public. The show is slated to continue through Monday.

Planned as a more elaborate affair this time, the show should attract even a greater multitude than it did last year. An orchestra to render a musical program will be on hand Sunday afternoon. Maintenance of the flowers and arrangement of them, will be better for the experience of the previous years, committeemen say.

Scouting parties were out during the early part of this week making a survey of what may be expected in the display. Unusual conditions are not blooming according to season. Some varieties that should not bloom in several weeks are already in blossom, while a number of the early species have not bloomed as yet. The survey also shows that the flowers are scarcer this year, in that each species is not blooming in such profusion. The survey leads the committee to believe, however, that there will be two hundred or more varieties for the show. Due to the erratic season, some species will be on display for the first time, according to J. E. Townsend, committee head.

To insure a thorough working of the district this year, additional collectors are being put in the field during the latter part of this week. At the same time, in order that preparations of the building may be more attractive than ever before an additional day of work had been mapped in the display room itself. An attendant will be at the Rose Garage display room all day tomorrow and Saturday to collect the specimens as they come in. Flowers may be left at the garage any time from Friday morning to Saturday evening.

Of particular interest this year will be a display of noxious weeds and an explanation of their particular objectionable qualities will be given. It is the hope of the county agricultural officials that farmers of the district will attend the display and familiarize themselves with the weeds.

The number of visitors at last year's show was 2,200, a vast increase over the attendance at previous displays. It is the contention of committeemen this year that the number of spectators will exceed three thousand. Visitors will be registered.

Mumps Force Vacation At Grammar School

"It's an ill wind—" is the contention of Niles Grammar school pupils who have escaped the mumps, but who nevertheless are profiting from the epidemic by virtue of a week's emancipation from the books.

With some seventy cases of the malady in a mild form, having reduced the attendance, Principal E. Dixon Bristow, stated that school was closed Monday for a week. He said that pea picking and mumps were threatening to empty the classrooms. Studies will be taken up again Monday.

EMBRYO SCRIBES ATTEND MEET AT U. C.

Nine Washington high school journalists, all associated with the Hatchet, school publication, returned Saturday night after spending two days at the annual convention of high school journalists at the University of California at Berkeley. The group under the guidance of Miss Grace Knoles, left for the meet Thursday noon.

The local embryo journalists who enjoyed the trip were: Jack Townsend, Hatchet editor; Bob Zeigler, Jack Rathbone, Leona Solon, Betty Robinson, Helen Barton, Helen Rogers, Irma Hodges, Gwendolyn Millet.

Met at the university by Walter Christie, Jr., the Centerville delegation, in company of 240 others from all parts of the state, were registered and conducted through the offices of the Daily Californian, university newspaper, and through the plant of Lederer, Street and Zeus, printers. The students spent Thursday night on the campus as guests of various fraternities and sororities, and spent the next day in conclave. They were addressed by a number of prominent newspapermen, and had luncheon at Stephen's Union.

Jack Townsend, was among those whose interview with Daily Cal reporters resulted in the publishing of their impressions of the California Campus in the college paper.

All of the young journalists returned with mounting enthusiasm over newspaper work.

APRICOT THINNING UNDER WAY; WILL BE LIGHT TASK

Short Crop In Local Orchards Forecast Price Increase

"It's too bad we can't pick them off one place and put them back at another," is the answer given by the majority of apricot growers' to questions concerning thinning this spring.

Estimated tonnage in Washington township, one of the major producing areas of the state, is somewhere in the region of 50 to 60 per cent of normal. In relation to the crops harvested during the last four years the 1934 crop will be relatively light.

In many of the orchards in southern Alameda county the crop is rather poorly distributed. For the most part trees around the edges will require considerable thinning, while center trees will be left untouched. Growers, in anticipation of a greatly increased price this year, have stated their intention of striving for a quality production. Rumors of high prices to be paid by canneries continue to circulate, and although unfounded by any official announcement, have considerably raised the hopes of growers. Little or no holdover in canneries warehouses add to the probability of greater returns this time.

CENTERVILLE HIGH BASEBALL TEAM IS HIT BY C.I.F. RULE

Five Players Ineligible For Further Competition
In League

One stroke of the official C. I. F. pen last week made a clean sweep of the Washington Union high school baseball team infield when five regular players were ruled ineligible for further league competition because of their active participation in bush league games in Washington township.

The ruling came last week after Coach Patterson, of the Amador Dons inquired of league officials if he could allow some of his men to play in outside games as the Centerville players were doing. When the information was communicated to Coach Jess Regli at Centerville, he immediately suspended the players in question.

The players dropped from the league contests are: Ted Dunlap, first baseman; Raoul Brown, second baseman; Ed. Rose, third baseman; and Heinle Robinson, shortstop. Al Muniz, centerfielder was also a victim of the C. I. F. axe. Brown and Dunlap had been playing Sunday ball with the Centerville Merchants, while Rose and Muniz were regulars on the Irvington team. Robinson has been playing with the Newark J. and F's.

Two more players, Raso and George Mererios were spared in the melee when it was discovered that the Niles C of C's, with whom they were playing, had been engaged in practice games, and had not started the league schedule.

The players ruled out will not be entirely lost to the high school team, it is said, since they will be allowed to play in non league games during the current season. Although the chances for another league championship may be somewhat impaired by the ruling, the Huskers proved their recuperative powers last Friday when they went to Emeryville with a revised lineup and trounced their opponents by a large score.

HAYWARD MAN APPEALS TO STATE FOR CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE

George C. Asmussen, plumbing contractor of 763 A street, Hayward, convicted recently in justice court on charges of illegally operating as a contractor in violation of state law, today was preparing to appeal to the state registrar of contractors for a license.

Hearing on Asmussen's application will be held at 10:00 a. m. tomorrow at Hayward, Registrar Carlos W. Huntington announced that Orman Lutz, supervisor-referee in the San Francisco district, had been assigned to conduct the formal hearing.

Asmussen was convicted in the Hayward justice court recently on four counts of violation of the state law. He was alleged to have submitted bids on construction work without being registered as a contractor. Justice Manley Clark, Livermore, sentenced Asmussen to pay a $200 fine—$50 on each count—or serve 50 days in jail. He paid the fine.

Evidence showed that Asmussen submitted formal bids on four projects, two of which were allegedly filed after he had been warned by Deputy District Attorney Stanley Smallwood, of Alameda county to discontinue contracting operations unless he obtained a registration certificate.

According to investigators, he submitted bids under the name of the United Plumbers. Under state law, all contractors are required to obtain a license.

Asmussen will be required to appear before Referee Lutz at the hearing tomorrow, and submit evidence as to his character and integrity to the satisfaction of the registrar before he may be granted a license.

Officials declared that George C. Asmussen, 763 A street, Hayward, is neither affiliated with nor related to George J. Asmussen, a general contractor residing at 1058 Grove Way, Hayward.

PLEASANTON MAN PASSES AWAY WEDNESDAY

Death claimed another well-known resident of Pleasanton when Henry Orloff passed away at his home on St. Mary's street, Wednesday afternoon of last week.

Orloff was fifty-eight years of age at the time of his passing. He was a native of Denmark and came here when seventeen years of age.

He operated a garage and service station in Santa Rita and Livermore since 1918 until three years ago when he was taken ill and had been practically an invalid all that time. Although he was not able to work he managed to get around and was enjoying fairly good health until Monday morning when he was taken with a stroke which paralyzed him resulting in his death.

He was of genial disposition and won a number of friends in the community during his business in this locality. He was a member of Dania Society of Livermore.

He had lived in Pleasanton for about one and a half years. Mrs. Orloff is employed at the Hagstrom's food store in Pleasanton.

Funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church at Pleasanton by Rev. R. C. Cross Friday afternoon at two o'clock. Interment followed at the Odd Fellows' cemetery. Old time friends acted as pallbearers.

AMADOR DONS DEFEATED BY HAYWARD NINE

The same old story was applied to the 1933-34 Dons last Tuesday when they motored to Hayward only to be defeated by the Farmers there in a baseball game by a score of nine to nothing.

Dutra who started on the mound for the Dons held the Farmers to but one run till the end of the fifth inning but his arm gave way and he was forced to retire until the ninth inning in which he was seen in action again.

The story goes that the Dons were just not good enough to hold the Farmers down. The lack of experienced players for the Don team this year is the main drawback although prospects for future teams look bright.

Dutra during his time at the mound allowed two hits, two runs, one of which was a result of a homer, walked two and struck out eight.

Paulo, who is a freshman, allowed seven hits, six runs, struck out one and walked two. Hansen allowed no hits, no runs and walked one in one inning.

The lineup was as follows:

Cleaning Cistern, Ready for Spring

Suction Attachment Will Remove Sediment and Save Water.

By E. W. Lehmann, Agricultural Engineering Department, University of Illinois.—WNU Service.

Soft water is both a labor saver and a money saver for the home and it need not be lost or wasted in order to clean out the cistern and get it ready for the spring rains.

To be sure it may be desirable to clean the cistern thoroughly before the soft water supply for the home is collected during the early spring rains. However, if the cistern is reasonably full of water, the problem of cleaning becomes a difficult one, especially if the water is needed and must be saved.

Under such circumstances, it is necessary to use a special pump so that the accumulation at the bottom may be removed without disturbing the contents of the cistern, except just at the bottom. This is accomplished by having a pump with a special funnel-shaped suction attachment at the bottom of the pipe. As the pump is operated, the suction unit is moved around over the floor so the material which has settled at the bottom may be pumped out. In this manner, much of the waste and foul material may be removed and the water made more satisfactory for use without losing or wasting the present supply.

If it is not necessary to save the present supply in the cistern, a more thorough job may be done by pumping out all the water. In this case the walls may be brushed down, the cistern floor scrubbed and all refuse removed completely.

Little attention need be given the cistern, if proper precaution is taken in collecting and filtering the supply.

Chance to Launch Vast "Work" Plan

Farmers Should Exchange Surplus Products for Needed Repairs.

By W. A. Foster, Rural Architect Specialist, University of Illinois.—WNU Service.

With millions of dollars' worth of repairs needed on their buildings and with their products going begging for a market, farmers might well get together with the unemployed workmen of towns and cities on a "farm works project" that would be of mutual benefit to all.

Practically every farm in central Illinois and the same is true in the southern sections of the state—should have $100 spent on it to keep the buildings in good condition.

Many roofs are badly rusted; some buildings should be torn down and the materials salvaged, while others are unsafe to use without repairs.

There are many craftsmen and handymen now idle who need some of the present farm surplus of grain for flour, meal and feed. They need hay for cow feed, a hog or a helper and fruits and vegetables for food, but they have no money with which to buy. The farmer, on the other hand, has a surplus of these.

Why shouldn't farmers exchange their surplus for painting, carpentry, masonry work and similar labor much needed on every farm? Such a plan would be a genuine relief to unemployed and at the same time would assist farmers in making the improvements at a minimum cost.

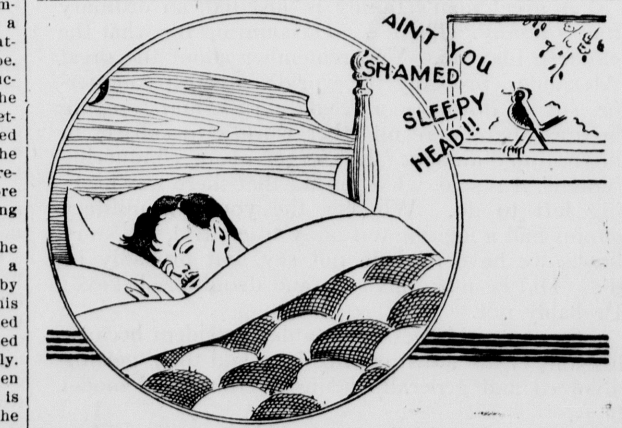

Such practices existed in many communities in the past, and a return of those "old-fashioned ways" would not be so bad, after all, if they feed the hungry, improve the farms and re-establish that integrity, confidence and co-operation of former days. Such an exchange of surplus services would go a long way toward the building of prosperity and happiness during the coming spring months.

Says Rubber Tires Are an Aid in Tractor Work

Low pressure pneumatic tires for tractors have many advantages over iron or steel tires, says Prof. F. L. Fairbanks of the New York State College of Agriculture. They travel over rough ground with less jar than do iron-clad wheels, he explains, and this helps to prolong the life of the tractor.

Air-filled tires make life more enjoyable for the driver, for his machine rides and guides more easily. Stones and other objects dent the tire momentarily, but the tractor passes over them with greater ease. This, he estimates, raises the drawing power about 25 per cent.

When iron or steel wheels are used in a muddy or snowy field, mud or snow packs in among the lugs. This reduces their power to grip and results in total reduced drawing power. He contrasts this with rubber tires which do not pick up and hold mud or snow. If the field becomes too slippery, chains can be used. Since chains creep around the tire, he adds, they tend to clean the tires.

Better Breakfasts

If it takes a birdie with a yellow bill, hopping on your window-sill to shame you out of bed in the morning—then there's something wrong. And it must be something wrong with the breakfast that's cooking downstairs in the kitchen.

Did you ever smell savory sausages simmering golden brown, and fragrant coffee percolating, and care to linger much longer beneath the covers? Suggest to somebody who plans breakfasts, that she plan better ones like this:

Stewed Figs and Raisins
Sausage with Fried Cereal
Slices and Syrup
Toast Coffee

Heated Water Treatment Kills Disease in Seed

Putting cabbage seed in heated water for 25 minutes kills black leg, black rot, leaf spots, and other cabbage-destroying fungi, according to Dr. Charles Chupp, specialist in vegetable diseases at the New York State College of Agriculture.

An 18-minute bath in water at 122 degrees will also kill diseases common to cauliflower, brussels sprouts, and turnips, he says. The one objection to the treatment is that old seed will not sprout well later. Seedsmen and growers, according to Professor Chupp, may lose by this process for a short time, but this loss, he says, is more than offset by development of disease-free plants.

He states that most seedsmen in New York state are having their seed treated and tested, and adds that canneries and creameries are permitting seedsmen to use the canner water heating equipment to make the treatment.

Work on cabbage diseases began in this state four years ago, when farmers in Ontario county asked for help in saving one-tenth of their cabbage crop which they were losing by plant diseases.

Dehydrating Hay

There is gradually coming into use a method of dehydrating hay which promises to provide very satisfactory feed. Those using this method report splendid results. Legumes and grasses may be cut earlier, thereby increasing their digestibility and palatability as well as increasing the percentage of protein. While this method of handling the hay crop is very promising and provides an excellent feed, it has not gone far enough to be a factor in dairy farm operations. The silo is still in extensive use. New methods may cause something else to take its place, but this will be some time in the future.—Hoard's Dairyman.

Varieties of Buckwheat

Pure varieties of buckwheat are very scarce. Probably the best sort for this country, writes a correspondent in the Montreal Herald, is that known as the Silver Hulled. Common black buckwheat is, however, very satisfactory when grown under favorable conditions. Buckwheat will do fairly well on very poor soil and under poor conditions, but it will do better on good soil and under favorable weather conditions. It should not be sown too early, very late June or early July unless it is sown very early, as early as wheat. It will do well at either seeding but will probably not do very well if sown between those dates.

Vitamin A in Potatoes

The good, old-fashioned names for potatoes such as Irish Cobblers and the Early Rose are passing into limbo and in place of them are cropping up such names as Katandlin, Chippewa, Rural New Yorker, Rusola, Arrostook, Wonder, Sutton's Flourball and other such names. Some of the newer potatoes are the result of the discovery that the South American potato was a fruitful source of vitamin A and despite the yellow color of the flesh of the potato, its value as food was considered sufficient to warrant experimentation to produce a better potato in this country.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

and probably the elder Roosevelt did not like that type of amusement. The picture would give the young man away. So he decided to use force, not the law, to stop it. But a newspaper publisher is not scared even by a president's son, so the picture was run, and doubtless the father saw it and read of the unseemly conduct of F. D. Jr.

Roosevelt may be a dictator for America, but around his own fireside, he is, apparently, like other American dads, just the old man, a little out of date, and rather a nuisance generally.

ENDEAVOR CABINET IS TO BE INSTALLED AT CHURCH

The subject for the Sunday morning service is centered in a modern parable and is a subject carrying a great challenge. The text is "I am the way, the truth, and the life," and the parable is entitled "And they Lost their Cradles."

In the evening will be held the installation of the newly elected Christian Endeavor cabinet by the pastor, who will use the symbolic candle-light service around which to center truths of life for both old and young. Following the installation and the singing of a hymn by the congregation, a dramatic portrayal of the consequences of the change that came in an ancient man when he came in contact with Jesus Christ will be given. "Zacchaeus" is presented by the young people of the church. It was written by the pastor. Below are people of the play and their respective roles: Amman, a shop-keeper in the time of Jesus, Ted Dundas; Zella, his wife, Estelle Martenstein; Joan, their son, Vernon Ellsworth; Ruth, their daughter, Betty Robinson; and Zacchaeus, the tax-collector, Jack Townsend. The service begins promptly at seven o'clock and will appeal to all ages.

A COOL KITCHEN WHEN YOU USE THE NEW ELECTRIC RANGE AND WATER HEATER

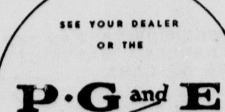

IT is more than mere talk—the modern electric range and water heater do mean cooler kitchens in hot summer.

Just why they do mean this is simply explained. For example, in the thickly insulated oven of the electric range cooking temperature may be at 500 degrees. Yet outside on the oven top or door it is just barely warm. The same is true of the electric water heater—the water inside the tank may be hot but the tank cover is hardly warmer than your hand.

Why not have these cool and capable kitchen companions working for you in your kitchen this summer and all the summers for many years? They are not expensive to buy right now. Purchase terms are exceptionally easy. And on the new low electric rate they are most economical to operate.

WARNING to EXPECTANT MOTHERS

They have ever been a patient in any hospital, you are probably familiar with the advantages of a liquid laxative.

Doctors know the value of the laxative whose dose can be measured, and whose action can thus be controlled to suit your individual need.

The public, too, is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have now learned that a properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement without discomfort at the time, or after. Dr. Caldwell's long experience with mothers and babies, and his remarkable record of nearly three thousand births without the loss of a mother or child, should give anybody complete confidence in any prescription which he wrote.

But most important of all, a gentle liquid laxative does not cause bowel strain to the most delicate system, and this is of the utmost importance to expectant mothers and to every child.

Expectant mothers are urged to try gentle regulation of bowels with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a delightful tasting laxative of delicious herbs, pure pepsin and active senna. Not a single mineral drug; nothing to cause strain or irritate the kidneys.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved preparation and kept ready for use by all druggists.

Decoto Students Hear Talk on Mosquitoes

Mosquitoes—where and how they grow, how certain mosquitoes spread malaria, and how the mosquito nuisance is being suppressed—were discussed at an assembly at Decoto Grammar school on Monday afternoon. Students viewed a two-reel motion picture and heard explanatory remarks by Robert B. Van Etten, of the local Mosquito Abatement District. This same program was to have been presented at Niles school Monday morning, but was postponed because of sickness which closed the school temporarily.

"CAT AND FIDDLE" STARS MacDONALD RAMON NOVERO

"The Cat and the Fiddle" starring Jeanette MacDonald and Ramon Novarro comes to the Hayward screen Thursday night for a three day run. This was the most popular stage success of 1933. Critics say it is even better on the screen. On the same bill is "I've Got Your Number" with Glenda Farrell and Joan Blondell. Tonight is the last showing of an excellent double bill; "Orient Express" with Preston Foster and "M I Were Free" with Clive Brook and Irene Dunne.

Tomorrow and Saturday nights is Adolphe Menjou and Genevieve Tobin in "Easy To Love." On the same bill is the unusual picture "Eskimo".

Sunday and Monday Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey appear in their riot "Hips, Hips, Hooray," with bevy of girls. Kay Francis and Ricardo Cortez fill out the program in Mandolay. "Rafter Romance" with Ginger Rogers, and "Sleepless Nights" with Stanley Lupino and Polly Walker, make up the bill for Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

SPRING SEASON MILDEST TO BE RECORDED HERE

If you have a tendency to notice birds and bees, and feel a strong aversion to tasks at hand, you may blame the weather this year with a clear conscience. According to meteorologists this is the mildest spring ever recorded in the bay area.

A few of the records established may convey some idea of the serenity of the season. March came in like a lamb, contrary to its custom; was skinned of its blustering characteristics, and sped on its way a meeker month.

Apricot and prunes blossomed earlier this year than any since 1916. Mustard, that natural barometer of mild weather, stood higher in the uncultivated places than it has during the last ten years. Mushrooms were larger and more plentiful. To top off the list, the spring has progressed so far without a single 32 degree freeze—a mildness last achieved in 1907.

Only the worst grouch could grumble in the face of all this.

Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Bennett returned to Niles late Sunday evening after a three day motor trip in the Sacramento valley.

Mrs. Robert Boyer spent several days last week visiting with friends in Oakland.

NILES VS ALVARADO LEAGUE CONTEST NEXT SUNDAY

Considerably heartened with a decisive win over San Leandro Sunday, the Niles C of C's will launch their league schedule next Sunday, when they meet the Alvarado Merchants at the Niles Grammar school diamond.

With eight teams in the Class B league, the Niles nine plans to keep at the top this time. All indications point favorably. The league teams are: Ramos Real state, Hayward Eagles, Wilson Barbers, and The Dug Outs, all Hayward teams, and the San Leandro Merchants, Alvarado Merchants and Newark Wedgewoods.

In the game Sunday against San Leandro, played at that city, Ray Duarte held his opponents to five hits. He struck out ten. Final score was: Niles 5, San Leandro 3.

Niles pulled the fat out of the fire with three runs in the eighth, after trailing 3 to 2. The last play of the game was a double play—Santos to Cull to Dundas.

AUTOISTS ESCAPE UNINJURED IN ACCIDENT

Swinging over to the side of the road to avoid hitting another car approaching through a heavy fog, Albert J. Phillippi, of Redwood City, crashed over the embankment on the long grade south of Mission San Jose Sunday morning at 5 o'clock. Neither Phillippi nor any of his five companions were injured.

The accident occurred when a southbound machine cut across the center line and loomed up through the mist directly in front of the Phillippi car. Turning the car directly down the embankment, the Redwood City man skillfully kept from capsizing. The car was hauled back on the road and drove away under its own power. Phillippi and his companions were bound on a fishing trip.

ARTICLE CONFUSES WASHINGTON PRESS AND NILES HERALD

In relation to a statement published in the Township Register of March 22, concerning Fred G. Vivian, former local publisher, William H. Ford communicated with the editor recently to correct the assertion that Mr. Vivian had been the publisher of the Washington Press, when it was published at Irvington.

According to Ford, who had backed Vivian in his first journalistic venture in Niles, the publication was called "The Weekly Herald," and was published here.

The Washington Press to which the previous article referred, was published in Irvington by one E. B. Thompson, and was quite a competitive issue with Vivian's "Herald" for a number of years.

Incorporated in the same article was the statement that Mr. Vivian had written a song for the Monterey county schools for which he received $20. The sum realized from the song was $250, not $20.
